A TAX-SMART WAY TO MAKE YOUR MARK AT McMASTER

If you own publicly listed stock or securities – especially if they have increased in value to the point where your potential tax bill is significant – making a donation of those assets to McMaster University can be a tax-smart way to support the University’s mission. You will receive a tax receipt for the full appreciated value of your gift and you will not need to pay capital gains tax. Making your gift is as easy as initiating an electronic funds transfer and McMaster’s gift planning staff are always ready to help you navigate the process.

WHAT TYPES OF ASSETS ARE ELIGIBLE?

You can make a gift of shares, debt obligations or rights listed on a prescribed stock exchange. You can also donate a share of the capital stock of a mutual fund corporation, a unit of a mutual fund trust, an interest in a related segregated fund trust or a prescribed debt obligation. Because these assets can fluctuate in value, the dollar amount of your charitable gift receipt will be based on the closing trading price on the day that McMaster receives delivery of the donated asset(s).

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF A GIFT OF SECURITIES?

- As with any charitable donation, you can designate your gift to the area of the University that is the most meaningful to you or you can make an unrestricted donation to support McMaster’s greatest needs.
- You can make your gift during your lifetime to receive a substantial tax benefit now, or you can make a gift provision in your will that will generate tax savings for your estate.
- You can combine gifts of stock and securities with other forms of future giving such as a charitable bequest to make a more significant gift than would otherwise be possible, thus allowing you to establish your own lasting legacy at McMaster University.
- Depending on how you structure your gift, you can provide McMaster with present, future and/or perpetual income, allowing the University to plan strategically for years and decades to come.
